HOFFA ASKED TO EXPLAIN TO MONITORS

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—A St. Louis police detective today described Teamster Vice President Harold Gibbons as a cop-hating associate of underworld characters whose labor activities have been filled with violence. "Practically every strike he has been involved in has had occasions of violence and destruction of property," Detective Capt. Thomas L. Moran told the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee. Moran said Gibbons tells St. Louis Teamsters to regard police as strikebreakers on the side of management. Moran testified that Gibbons "seems to have more than a talking acquaintance with some of the leading underworld figures." He specifically mentioned John Vitale, reputed head of the Italian crime syndicate in St. Louis, and Joe Costello, who has been described as the leading fence or dealer in stolen property in St. Louis.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Court-appointed monitors keeping watch over the scandal-strewn Teamsters Union demanded an explanation today of what its president, James R. Hoffa, is up to in creating his own commission to hunt down racketeers. The board instructed Hoffa to furnish by Aug. 28 a detailed report concerning the reasons, the commission's powers and duties, its proposed procedures, and its proposed relationship to the board of monitors.

In a letter to Hoffa, Martin F. O'Donoghue, chairman of the board of monitors, said the board had learned of Hoffa's commission only through the public press.

"This commission is being created and appointments are being made without consultation with, or even notice to, the monitors," O'Donoghue wrote. Hoffa, reached at Senate Rackets Committee hearings, said he had no comment to (Turn to Page Nine)

Legal Profession Up in Air About Space Travel Laws

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lawyers admitted today their profession is still pretty much up in the air about laws for space travel. Sample comments in a symposium at the American Bar Association's 81st convention. Rear Adm. Chester Ward, Navy judge advocate general: "Basically, our position is that the law of space should be based upon the facts of space; and that there is much more that we have to learn before we shall be in a position to say what shall be the legal principles applicable to activities in space."

Disappearance of Explorer V Still Apparent Mystery

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The disappearance of Explorer V still was an apparent mystery today. The Army forged ahead with plans for two more satellite launches.

The Army still had no official comment on the cause of the latest failure two days after a powerful Jupiter-C rocket roared skyward when it appeared to be a perfect launching.

One spokesman said it may take several more days before complete telemetry reports on the flight are analyzed and the answer found. The military usually withholds these announcements.

In the only activity Monday, a Shark intercontinental guided missile blasted into the night on the start of a 6,000-mile journey across the Atlantic. The trip toward target took about 10 hours. The results of the test were not announced.

New York Welcomes the Nautilus

Mist-shrouded skyscrapers of New York City form the background as arching streams from fireboats and an overhead helicopter welcome the USS Nautilus, home from her epochal voyage under the North Pole. Gloomy weather failed to dampen the atomic sub's homecoming. (NEA Telephoto)

NEW YORK (AP)—Proud officers and crew of the atomic submarine Nautilus enjoyed a holiday on the town today with their families and friends.

At the Brooklyn Navy Yard, a fourth of the ship's complement of 12 officers and 97 men maintained a watch on the craft which crossed under the North Pole icecap to history.

The blue-black sub is berthed for dockside view by the public today and Wednesday. She cannot be boarded.

New York's three-day welcome will continue Wednesday with the honor the city traditionally extends to conquering heroes—a ticker tape parade.

Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, expert on nuclear ship propulsion and "father" of the Nautilus, will ride up lower Broadway with the sub's crew. In the lead car will be the Nautilus' skipper, Cmdr. William R. Anderson.

The Nautilus will leave Thursday for her home base at New London, Conn.

Record Number Children in State Returning to Schools

Urge Easing of Restrictions on U. S. Diplomats

By LEONARD A. UNGER

HARRISBURG (AP)—Some 2,400,000 Pennsylvania school children will be returning to classes next month, an all-time high. The Department of Public Instruction estimated the group includes 1,870,000 public school students and 544,000 from parochial and other private schools. The over-all total compares with 2,300,000 last year and two millions five years ago.

"We're in for increased enrollments each year for the next 10 years," said a spokesman. "By 1967, the grand total of school enrollments is estimated at 2,800,000."

Of this year's total, the number of first-graders will be nearly 222,000.

As has been the case since the end of World War II, Pennsylvania will start another school year with a teacher shortage. The department estimated some 6,600 instructors are needed to meet the shortage with little or no prospects that many will become available in the public schools.

The 1958-59 school year will start with about 73,000 teachers on the staff. In the next five years, swollen enrollments and teacher retirements will increase the need to 83,000 teachers.

There will be some changes in curricula on the basis of recommendations made by Gov. Leader's Committee on Instruction.

Beefed-up courses in mathematics and science, plus introduction classes in Russian, were expected to feature the curricula of many school systems.

Simpson Blames Democrats for Blocking Tactics

CHICAGO (AP)—Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.) told members of the Republican National Committee today that Democratic leaders in Congress blocked all labor legislation this year to please union bigwigs.

"Walter Reuther, David McDonald and other bigwigs in the labor hierarchy did not want restrictions imposed on their reckless activities," Simpson said, "so they simply passed the word down to those who serve them in the Senate and the House."

Simpson, chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, echoed a keynote sounded earlier by GOP Chairman Meade Alcorn for this fall's campaigns.

Alcorn said before the two-day meeting of the party's 147-member National Committee that the failure of Congress to pass any measure to curb labor racketeering "is a dramatic demonstration of the need for a Republican Congress."

The National Committee laid plans for intensive campaign efforts on behalf of party candidates for Congress during September and October.

Holiday Traffic Toll Is Estimated at 420

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council estimates 420 persons may be killed in traffic accidents during the long Labor Day weekend.

That is 70 deaths more than might be expected to occur during a non-holiday period this time of the year.

The council says the toll could be cut if every driver would reduce normal speed by at least 10 m.p.h., concentrate on a safe rather than quick arrival and not drive after drinking.

The holiday driving period extends from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday.

Ike Expected To Sign Bill Hiking Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration sources said today President Eisenhower is expected to sign the bill increasing Social Security benefits by about 7 percent.

Eisenhower may, however, strongly criticize provisions increasing the federal grant contribution to public assistance programs run by the states.

Persons in position to know said both the President and Secretary of Welfare Fellingham have strong feelings against increasing the federal share in supporting such programs benefiting the aged, dependent children, the blind and totally disabled.

But these sources said it has been decided the merits of the legislation outweigh the demerits.

Though they did not mention it, this is an election year and practical politics is a likely factor.

The principle demerit is described as the 198-million-dollar annual increase in the federal share of funds Congress voted for the federal-state public assistance program.

Plane Crash Survivors Saved by Tall Corn

ZELIENOPE, Pa. (AP)—Three Ohio residents can thank tall corn for saving them from suffering serious injuries in a light plane crash.

The light plane, piloted by William Lodge, 33, of Columbiana, Ohio, crash-landed Monday in a cornfield about five miles south of Zelienople.

Lodge was admitted to Ellwood City Hospital with a back injury. His two passengers, James C. Gruber, 31, of Salem, Ohio, and Sherwood Gleeton, 29, of Columbiana, were treated and released.

State Trooper Richard Skillman said the tall corn in the field helped absorb some of the shock.

He said the three were taking a pleasure flight from North Lima, Ohio, to the Allegheny County Airport near Pittsburgh when engine trouble developed.

Battle Over Race Mixing In Virginia

HARRISONBURG, Va. (AP)—Virginia's last-ditch legal maneuvering to avoid mixing of the races in public schools shifted today to a federal courtroom in this Shenandoah Valley town.

Attorneys for the Charlottesville school board planned to ask Judge John Paul to declare valid a new school district created under the board's local pupil assignment plan. All 30 Negro applicants to the city's white schools, which open next Tuesday, live in the new district.

Two developments darkened segregationist hopes of legally averting racial integration without having to resort to the state's declared policy of closing integrated schools.

The State Pupil Placement Board denied the applications of all Negroes seeking entry to White schools in Arlington and Newport News.

At Norfolk, Federal Dist. Judge Walter E. Hoffman instructed the city school board to re-examine 151 applications from Negro pupils which it turned down last week.

There appeared little hope of resolving any part of the conflict here in the light of Judge Paul's earlier statement that the new Charlottesville school district appeared to be a case of gerrymandering and that he would be inclined to ignore it if and when he made pupil assignments.

Hurricane Daisy Said To Be Drifting North

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Daisy drifted slowly toward the northwest today, 220 miles off Melbourne, Fla. It appeared to follow a pattern that would bring none of its crushing winds to the U. S. mainland.

Reconnaissance aircraft reported today that Daisy was moving toward the northwest at about 5 m.p.h.

If Daisy is pushed into a more northeasterly direction, a spokesman for the Weather Bureau said, it would find itself chased out to sea by strong southwesterly winds blowing at all levels across the United States.

This, at present, is what the Weather Bureau thinks will happen.

Johnstown Paper Faces Million Dollar Suit

EBENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—The Johnstown Tribune Publishing Co. faces a million dollar libel suit. Atty. Norman A. Krumenacker Jr., city solicitor of Johnstown, filed the suit Monday against the company, its publisher and its executive editor.

Krumenacker said his character and professional reputation have been damaged by "numerous news articles and editorial articles" published in the Johnstown Tribune-Democrat.

Editor and publisher of the paper is Walter W. Krebs. John F. James is executive editor.

Large Order for Flat Cars and Truck Trailers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Trailer Train Co. has placed a six million dollar order with firms in Butler and Berwick for 400 flat cars, each capable of hauling two 40-foot truck trailers.

Pullman Standard Car Manufacturing Co., Butler, will build 200 and American Car & Foundry division of ACF Industries, Berwick, will build the rest. Deliveries are to be made in November and December.

Trailer Train is owned jointly by the Pennsylvania Railroad, eight other railroads and Rail Trailer Co.

WASHINGTON COUNTY FIRE WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—A one-story frame business building in nearby South Strabane Twp., was destroyed by an explosion punctuated fire Monday night. One fireman was injured.

The blaze broke out in a structure occupied by the Washington Advertising Co. and the Impella Window Co. Five families in nearby homes were forced to evacuate when flames threatened.

Arkansas Lawmakers Plan To Give Governor Faubus Authority To Close School

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus today called upon the Arkansas Legislature in special integration session "to defend our rights against those who would usurp them."

In a prepared speech, Faubus urged no surrender. "This battle for state's rights and constitutional government is not of our choosing," he said.

"The issue has been forced upon us and we must either defend our rights against those who would usurp them or else surrender."

Faubus asked for a bill that would empower him to close the state's public schools—specifically in the current case, Central High School—against forced integration.

Faubus has said the measure is necessary to avoid a repetition of the rioting that occurred outside Central High a year ago when Negroes first were admitted to its classrooms.

The proposed bill provides for a school district election within 30 days of closing a school to decide whether to keep it closed or to integrate.

Faubus' address came 48 hours in advance of a special U. S. Supreme Court session. The high court is expected to decide whether to grant Central High a breathing spell in integration, or direct immediate reentry of negro students to its classrooms.

The School Board Monday night postponed the reopening of Central to its 2,000 students from Sept. 2 to Sept. 8 to allow a little easing of the time pressure on both the Legislature and the Supreme Court.

Faubus in his legislative message asked a further postponement to Sept. 15.

Board President Wayne Upton said it was hoped the postponement would "remove the pressure of shortage of time for both the Supreme Court... and the Arkansas Legislature."

Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas urged the high court to show patience and grant time in the case of Little Rock's Central High School. Otherwise, he has prepared legislation to close the school entirely.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas lawmakers gathered today ready to stamp approval on measures aimed at keeping Little Rock's schools segregated unless voters approve racially mixed classes.

The Little Rock school board scrapped one measure before the Legislature met. It announced postponement of all city school openings from Sept. 2 to Sept. 8 to ease the time pressure on the Legislature and the U. S. Supreme Court.

A bill requiring the delay in the fall term had been prepared for legislative approval.

School Supt. Virgil Blossom announced that three more Negroes (Turn to Page Nine)

Airliner With 61 on Board Forced Down

CUT BANK, Mont. (AP)—A Trans World Airlines Super-Comet with 61 persons aboard was forced down by a burning engine Monday night at this northern Montana town.

One man, Wilfred Price of San Francisco, was injured when he jumped from the plane as it rolled to a stop.

The four-engine plane set a grass fire, but firemen controlled the blaze. The rest of the passengers and crew escaped injury.

Alaskans Voting Today on The Question of Statehood

By WILLIAM J. TOBIN
JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Alaskans decide today whether the northern territory is to be the 49th state.

The votes were being cast throughout the 586,400-square-mile territory in precincts with such names as Metlakatla and Chilkat, Pelican, Fox, Chicken and Eagle, Badger Road, Lincoln Park, North Pole and Turnagain by the Sea.

When all the votes are counted—and some of them won't be tabulated for a week—Alaskans are expected to have approved admission into the Union by a margin of at least 2-1.

Under terms of the admission act signed in July by President Eisenhower, such a vote will mean that a 49th star will be added to the nation's flag next year.

A presidential proclamation creating the newest and largest state—and the first to be admitted since New Mexico and Arizona entered the Union in 1912—probably will be issued in late December or early January. In anticipation of approval of the three statehood referendums, Alaskans also were voting today in a primary election to nominate candidates for the first state offices.

Republican and Democratic candidates for Alaska's first two seats in the U. S. Senate were assured nomination without opposition in the primary.

The two Democratic senatorial hopefuls who have no party contest in the primary are Alaska's long-time nonvoting delegate to Congress, E. L. Bob Bartlett of Juneau, and Earnest Gruening of Juneau, former Alaska governor who served 18 years as appointed territorial chief executive.

In a Nov. 25 general election, if statehood is approved, Gruening will oppose Republican Mike Steppovich of Fairbanks, the last appointed governor of Alaska. R. E. Robertson of Juneau, a lawyer, is unopposed for the GOP nomination to face Bartlett in November.

U. S. FLEET SAILS FROM SINGAPORE

TOKYO (AP)—Men and planes of the U. S. 5th Air Force guarding Japan, Korea and Okinawa are in "an increased state of alert" during the current tense Formosa situation, an Air Force spokesman said today.

The spokesman emphasized, however, it is a routine type of alert.

Similar steps were taken here when the Middle East crisis broke out last month.

Rear Adm. Frederic S. Withington, commander of U. S. Navy forces, Japan said Monday the ships and men under his command also were on an increased, but still routine state of alert.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Chinese Communists bombed Quemoy in furious bursts for the fourth straight day today, again increasing the volume of shells poured into the little Chinese Nationalist outpost island.

The bombardment which some officials feared was a prelude to invasion of the Nationalist offshore islands, began with about 80,000 shells over the weekend but subsided Monday to some 2,900 shots. Today the Reds stepped up the tempo again.

In three rounds of shelling from the nearby mainland beginning shortly after midnight, the Communists hit Quemoy and the nearby Tan Islands about 900 times, the Nationalist Defense Ministry said. Then in 2 hours and 40 minutes of early after-

Political Parties In New York Pick Senate Nominees

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
New York state Republicans and Democrats nominate their candidates for U. S. senator today while Alaska residents make their big decision on whether to join the Union as the 49th state.

Other voting takes place in Mississippi, where state Democrats nominate a senator, six congressmen and local officers.

Two political veterans, Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City and Republican Rep. Kenneth B. Keating, appeared in line for reluctant nomination as senatorial candidates in New York.

The Democrats and Republicans found it much more difficult to choose nominees for the Senate than for the governor's race. Monday night, as expected, the Democrats nominated Gov. Averell Harriman for a second four-year term and the Republicans topped Nelson A. Rockefeller to oppose him.

Democratic leaders, finding difficulty in agreeing on a candidate for senator, hoped to persuade Wagner to make the run as a compromise choice. Party officials were unable to get together behind one of the six active candidates. Wagner had said he did not want to run.

Ike and Mamie Plan a Vacation At Newport, R. I.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower hope to get away Thursday or Friday for a vacation the second year in a row at Newport, R.I.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty, in announcing this, said he had no idea how long the vacation may last. It all depends on the world situation as well as developments at home, Hagerty said.

As was the case last year, when Eisenhower spent about a month at Newport, presidential office headquarters will be at the U.S. Naval Base on Coasters Harbor Island, adjacent to Newport, in Narragansett Bay.

However, the President and Mrs. Eisenhower will have their living quarters this time at Ft. Adams, another naval installation situated across Newport Harbor from Coasters Harbor Island.

"This is a conditional announcement," Hagerty told a news conference in speaking of the Eisenhower's hope to go to Newport later this week.

Hagerty said present plans call for departure at the earliest Thursday afternoon or Friday morning. But he emphasized that the President's plans could be changed by unforeseen developments.

WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE ANNIVERSARY

In connection with the 38th anniversary of Women's Suffrage today public officials from the top level down to precinct units are urging every woman to register one more voter of her sex.

This great privilege (of voting) is still denied to women in many countries, and no woman can exercise it unless she is registered.

Attention is called to the fact that just three weeks remain until the registration books close on September 15th.

In this connection it is recalled that the amendment was presented to the legislatures of the several states by the 66th Congress, having been adopted by the House of Representatives May 21, 1919, and by the Senate June 4, 1919. The Secretary of State August 26, 1920, proclaimed it in effect having been adopted June 10, 1919-August 18, 1920, by three-quarters of the states. The amendment was rejected by Alabama, Maryland and Virginia.

It provides "The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex."

SO LONG, JERRY!

It is with sincere regret the Times-Mirror staff, and particularly the School Editor, has said goodbye to the Gerald Newton family, as Jerry leaves to take up his new work as an assistant superintendent of schools in Beaver county. Coming to Warren in 1950 as curriculum director for the Warren School System, Mr. Newton has, indeed, filled the intervening years with a variety of activities designed to better both the school program and personnel. While we are sorry to lose him, and his family, we extend them every good wish for success in their new work and home in Beaver, Pa.

Gov. Leader has called on Pennsylvanians to pay "tribute to the spirit and accomplishments of the men and women of labor" on Labor Day, Monday, September 1st. The day is dedicated to those on whom the welfare of the nation depends, he says in a statement on the subject.

Marlow Looks At TODAY'S NEWS

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mob violence and the meaning of "all deliberate speed" are at the heart of the problem facing the Supreme Court in its special session Thursday.

What the court does will affect the integration situation at public schools throughout the South although it will actually be dealing only with events involving Little Rock's Central High School.

The court didn't say how it should be done when on May 17, 1954 it ordered an end to racial segregation in public schools. It clarified itself somewhat later—in 1955—when it said integration must be carried out with "all deliberate speed."

It didn't say exactly what that meant. It left the task of interpreting "all deliberate speed" to the various federal district judges who were best able to know the problems and attitudes on integration in their districts.

It wasn't until 1957 that Federal Dist. Judge Ronald Davies ruled integration at Little Rock's Central High had to start in September of that year. This was after the school superintendent thought integration could be carried out peacefully.

But mob violence followed. Arkansas Gov. Orval F. Faubus frustrated Davies' order by using National Guardsmen to keep Negroes out of Central High. And President Eisenhower used federal troops to back up Davies' order by seeing to it Negroes got into Central High. A year of tension and incidents followed.

At the end of the last school term the Little Rock school board went to another federal judge, Harry J. Lemley, and asked him to set aside Davies' order. Lemley agreed. He ordered integration at Central High delayed 2½ years.

Thus what seemed "all deliberate speed" to one federal judge seemed, in the light of events which followed, too fast to another judge. This meant mob action, if violent enough, could be expected, to nullify an order to integrate.

The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People asked the U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis to throw out Lemley's ruling. The circuit court did.

It did more. In strong language it said that to grant Lemley's kind of delay—as a result of mob violence—was to let a mob frustrate the will of the courts. The school board was ordered to continue integration at Central High.

But the board asked the Circuit Court to delay its order—by issuing a stay—until the board could appeal to the Supreme Court to overrule the Circuit Court and uphold Lemley.

The Circuit Court issued the stay, giving the board 30 days to appeal to the Supreme Court. But this stay meant Negroes could not start the new Central High term then set to begin Sept. 2 but now postponed to Sept. 8.

Then the NAACP went directly to the Supreme Court to ask it to set aside the Circuit Court's stay order and thus let go into effect the Circuit Court's ruling that integration must be continued.

The Supreme Court can with out comment, throw out the stay order or let it stand. This would let the school board appeal to the nine justices later to uphold Lemley's 2½-year delay by overruling the Circuit Court's order to continue integration.

But the high court could in effect Thursday hear the full merits of the case, thus rendering a later appeal by the school board unnecessary—and take a full stand now for or against the Circuit ruling.

Yet if the Supreme Court lets the Circuit Court's stay order continue in effect it will be agreeing to keep Negroes out of Central High when this year's school term starts.

If this happens, the Little Rock mob can rightfully claim that by its violence it forced the federal courts to back up. It's hard to see the Supreme Court letting it self get into that position.

Maybe a Bigger Suitcase?

Here and There

Hats Off Department: A portion of this column today is being devoted to special mention of the fact that two of Warren's "elder statesmen"—

Marshall W. Parnsall and Ike Read—are observing birthday anniversaries tomorrow. Considering the fact that they are both around the eighties, we are assuming that they have been readers of the Times-Mirror, since the Evening Times was founded by Sike Walker 58 years ago this month, and we might add both have made commendable contributions to the growth and prosperity of the community Parnsall, who is recovering from his recent illness sufficiently to be up and around every day, when weather permits takes a stroll around the neighborhood with the aid of his housekeeper and nurse Dagmar Betenzer. He was born in Pleasantville 77 years ago being brought to Warren by his parents the late Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Parnsall in 1882. It will be remembered that the father became a Republican leader for many years being chairman of the party committee in the county, during which time Marshall was treasurer considered a vital post in those days of factional battles at the polls. Marshall attended the public schools of the borough and graduated from Yale University in 1900. In public life he was a member of the borough council back around 1909, postmaster under President Harding around 1920 for five years. At one time he had a tire shop in a room in the rear of the American Express Office across the alley from the IOOF hall in Hickory street. At that time the late Todd Keeler and his son Don operated a "Quick Delivery" service with headquarters in the tire shop with Lloyd Knowlton as driver of the motorcycle-driven vehicle used for the service. Parnsall also served as inheritance tax appraiser. In earlier days he played on local baseball teams and in later years was considered one of the outstanding golfers both at the Conewango Valley Country Club and before that on the course on the hill north of the east side section. Our old friend Ike Read is equally as well known as is Parnsall, although his activities were concentrated in other and entirely different paths. He is best remembered for being one of the founders, along with the late Bob Mackay, of the Allegheny Hiking Club, which used to devote each Sunday afternoon to walking tours through the area. Ike has never given up his hobby of hiking, and may be seen almost every day strutting along the streets of the borough and outlying sections, always with his cane, which he carries, more from a habit than anything else, and certainly not because he has use for it. He enjoys nothing better than to turn out with parade units, having been an aide in processions that have traversed the streets of the town for about a half century. When he retired from the barber business some years ago he had a reputation of being one of the oldest and best known torsorial artists in the entire section. It is a pleasure to extend felicitations to a couple of friends like Marshall and Ike.

The three-cent stamp has gone the way of the nickel cigar. In recent years the Post Office Department has issued many billions of 3-cent stamps annually. Now no 3-cent stamps at all will roll from the presses until its stock is depleted. Overnight, as of August 1, the most popular best-seller for first-class mail became a 4-cent lavender stamp with a brooding likeness of Lincoln. But the 3-cent stamp ships from the major to a minor role with unusual honors. No other denomination has had such a diversified career. The National Geographic Society says The nation's first 3-cent stamp appeared in 1851, four years after the government started issuing adhesive postage stamps. Brick red, it carried a profile of Washington after the bust by Houdon. Washington was a popular subject that year. His portrait also decorated 1861's 10, 12, 24, and 90-cent stamps. From then until now, 3-cent stamps have provided far more revenue than any other denomination. In the fiscal year 1957 alone, some 24,250,000,000 were sold, bringing a return of about $475,000,000. There have been three regular issues of 3-centers in the last two decades—1938's Jefferson, the most used stamp on record, 1952's NATO stamp and 1954's Statue of Liberty. The regular 3-cent stamps and numerous commemoratives form a remarkable album of American notables, of historic events and places, of leading industries and institutions. Last year, for instance, commemoratives noted the 350th anniversary of American shipbuilding, the bicentennials of Alexander Hamilton and Lafayette, the 150th anniversary of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the centennials of the American Institute of Architects and the steel industry. Others honored American teachers and the national antipolpo campaign. Washington's stern face has gazed from at least 14 3-cent stamps. These include commemoratives marking his birthday bicentennial, the end of the Revolution, his first inauguration, and the Battle of Brooklyn. Presidents Monroe, Jackson, Lincoln, and both Roosevelts have adorned the 3-cent stamp, as have Generals Sherman, Grant, and Sheridan. Still others were Edgar Allan Poe, Luther Burbank, Victor Herbert, Al Smith, Thomas Edison, Joseph Pulitzer, George Washington Carver, Clara Barton, Will Rogers, Joel Chandler Harris, Samuel Gompers, Betsy Ross, George Eastman, Andrew Mellon, and "Casey" Jones of railroad fame. A striking series of 3-centers, inaugurated in 1956, emphasizes wildlife conservation. The series has featured the wild turkey, pronghorn antelope, king salmon, and whooping crane. Over the years most 3-cent stamps have been printed in shades of violet, though a few have been designed in tints of green, blue, maroon, brown, yellow, and gray. A 1957 stamp in black commemorated religious freedom in America. One 3-cent stamp, a 1947 commemorative marking the 100th anniversary of United States postage stamps, holds an all-time sales record. The public purchased 7,500,000 copies of it on the first day of issue.

After a fellow says "I do," there's usually a lot of things he doesn't.

It was not until the 18th century that prisons began to be used for the punishment or correction of law violators. Until then, prisoners were placed where accused were held pending trial. After the trial, the sentence of the court—death, bodily punishment or fine—was carried out immediately. There were no prison sentences in those days.

NEW YORK (AP)—With American nuclear submarines making headlines on both sides of the Atlantic today, industry is stepping up its interest in the atom on the front.

Some commercial nuclear power plants already are in operation and others are being built.

And nuclear research reactors are operating at various points from one side of the nation to the other. Still more are being installed.

An operating nuclear research reactor built by Atomic International, a division of North American Aviation, is being set up in Geneva for the second International Conference on Peaceful Uses of Atomic Energy, opening next week.

Six 10-watt nuclear research reactors are being built by that company at Canoga Park, Calif., for use by educational institutions and industrial research laboratories. Curtiss-Wright has a general purpose nuclear installation at its research development center at Quehanna, Pa., offering laboratory and radiation services for industry.

It is building a reactor at Watertown, Mass., for the U.S. Army to test an atomic food irradiator. The aim is to process foods so that they may be kept fresh under field conditions for the military forces.

North American built a research reactor for Armour Research Foundation of Chicago, and American Machine and Foundry supplied one for Batelle Memorial Institute of Columbus, Ohio.

General Electric is negotiating with Washington State College at Pullman, Wash., for a research reactor.

In the field of atomic power plants, Westinghouse Electric will complete one in 1960 at Rowe, Mass., for the Yankee Atomic Electric Co., using experience gained in the plant in operation at Shippingport, Pa. It has under way a study with the Carolina Virginia Nuclear Power Associates to find the type of reactor best suited to the group's needs.

North American Aviation will complete in 1961 nuclear power plants at Piqua, Ohio, and Hallam, Neb. And it has a research and development program under way on an advanced epithermal thorium reactor for the Southwest Atomic Energy Associates, representing 15 electric utility companies in Arkansas, Kansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas.

General Electric expects to have a 180,000-kilowatt nuclear power plant ready in two years for Commonwealth Edison near Chicago. It will build a nuclear steam supply system at Eureka, Calif., for Pacific Gas & Electric. The utility will also use power generated at GE's Vallecos nuclear laboratory in California, which will be completed this fall.

Expense has been the chief deterrent to rapid growth of the civilian use of the atom. Conventional power utilities see the day far off when nuclear power will be competitive. But stars are multiplying.

Boyle's Comment

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"I don't believe in drifting," said Dick Powell, "and my only wish is that I'd been born smarter."

"Looking back on my career, it seems like I was always fighting to get out of one thing and into another. I was always restless, and I still am."

A man with a deceptively east-going air, Powell, now a kind of strolling Ft. Knox, has had a number of careers in his rise from saxophone player to top status as a movie and TV producer-director.

But even in his lean days Powell had a sturdy independence.

He recalled that 30 years ago, as a young unknown theater emcee, he turned down a chance to play opposite a promising actress. The actress was Janet Gaynor. The picture was "Seventh Heaven," and it made a star of Charles Farrell, who took the role Powell rejected.

"But I still think I was right," said Dick. "I wasn't quite ready for it."

Powell later fought and won the right to play tough guy roles after he starred in 35 musicals in 13 years, the memory of which still depresses him.

The slender tenor from Mountain View, Ark., is busier than ever. He will help supervise the filming of 150 television shows and he still has four full-length pictures to produce and direct under a contract with 20th Century-Fox.

What has been his biggest problem in adapting to his new career as a producer? Powell grinned wryly at his wife, actress June Allyson.

"It's trying to sell an actor on the idea that a proposed role is just right for him. I don't know why that's so difficult for me. After all, I was doing the same way dozens and dozens of times when I was an actor," he replied.

"I'm not exactly the promoting type of producer. I hate to put pressure on people, but sometimes you have to."

"But there's no greater satisfaction than taking a story and turning it into a completed picture. It's far more satisfying than just acting."

"People think Richard's a lot tougher and more practical than he really is," said June, who knows shorthand and says she acts as his secretary when they're traveling. "Underneath, he's a softie."

They relax with their children on a 50-acre ranch that lies within the city limits of Los Angeles. Dick still likes to play his saxophone, but most of his singing now is confined to bathroom arias.

OUTWARD TO THE STARS (7)—Thrust

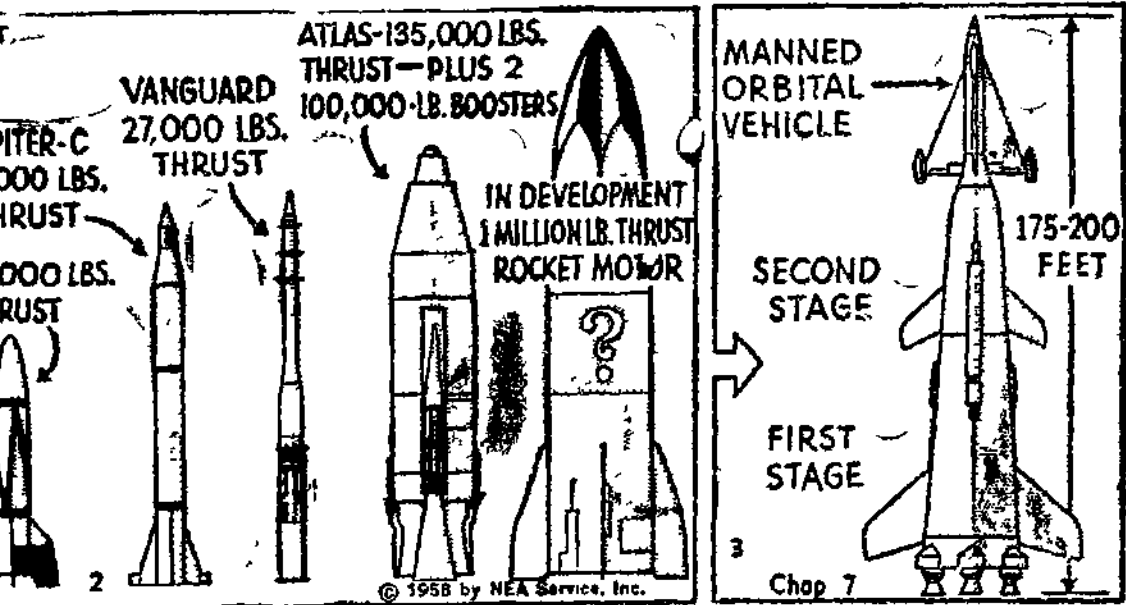

(1) The first obstacle which must be overcome before man can achieve space flight is Earth's gravity.

Gravitational pull can be likened to a great funnel, and a rocket to a daredevil motorcyclist trying to escape. Loops at (a), (b) and (c) above show how high the cyclist would go at different speeds. At 25,000 miles per hour he would be free of Earth's gravity forever. But if he sped around the sides of the funnel, he could maintain an orbit at a speed less than escape velocity.

Speed for the orbit closest to Earth (just above the atmosphere) is about 18,000 miles per hour.

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane

Three stages appear to be the most practical and efficient number.

Most advanced U.S. rocket so far is the Navy Vanguard, which delivers one pound of satellite for 1,000 pounds of rocket, as against 2,000 pounds of rocket for the Jupiter-C.

(3) Even if currently available fuels are improved, a man-carrying rocket will be of tremendous size. Shown at right is the possible shape of a manned satellite or supply rocket to a station in space. It is designed to be able to return to Earth as a supersonic glider.

Rotary Club Hears Interesting Talk On Sewage Plant

Robert DeBell, Warren Borough Engineer, presented a discussion of the progress being made on the Community Sewage Treatment and disposal plant at the weekly Rotary Club meeting held Monday at noon at the YWCA activities building. Mr. DeBell was introduced by this month's program chairman, Neil J. Culbertson. An educational and enlightening question and answer period was engaged in by the Club members with the speaker following the excellent progress report made.

President Frank Perrin announced that the District Governor of Rotary, Herman Offner of Edinboro, will visit Warren for the purpose of conducting a Club Assembly and the regular Club meeting on September 15th. He urged that all Committee reports be completed before that time. Also announced was the monthly board of directors meeting to be held at the home of H. W. Alexander at 4:00 p. m. on September 8th. Wives of directors are also invited to attend this meeting. An excerpt from the District Governor's monthly letter to all Rotary Clubs in the District disclosed that the Warren Club was in 11th place attendance-wise, with an average attendance of 86 9/10 which is considered to be very good. The club members were congratulated by the President and the attendance committee. Noteworthy was the fact that many Rotarians are making up meetings which are missed.

Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr. announced that there is now a shortage in the Probation Society endowment fund of just $144.86 to be realized to meet this year's goal.

Visitors were C. W. Bower, Phillipsburg, N. J., and John Urbanic of Warren and Joseph Wagner, a visiting Rotarian of Muncie, Indiana.

Flickinger Co. Breaks Grocery Industry Record

S. M. Flickinger Company in Buffalo announced today that it had broken grocery industry records with the largest single purchase of household paper products in history.

The purchase involved 65 carloads of Scott Paper Company products, retail value of approximately one half million dollars.

Hil C. Olney, executive vice president of the Flickinger Co., said, "We think it significant that this record-breaking purchase was made by a group of 700 independently-owned stores."

"I think, further, this purchase shows the current outlook for business as viewed by these 700 business men."

Olney said this was the first organization-wide promotion ever "engineered" by Flickinger firm with a national brand manufacturer.

Flickinger serves grocery stores in central and western New York, northwestern Pennsylvania and in central and northeastern Ohio. The Flickinger-sponsored groups include some 650 Red and White stores; 19 Red and White supermarkets; 17 Super Duper food centers; and 5 Lucky Dollar markets. Together they sell more than $150 million worth of grocery products annually.

Nine of the 700 stores purchase full carloads of paper products. These stores are selling to consumers by the case at special prices, directly out of the freight cars or out of truck trailers parked in front of the stores.

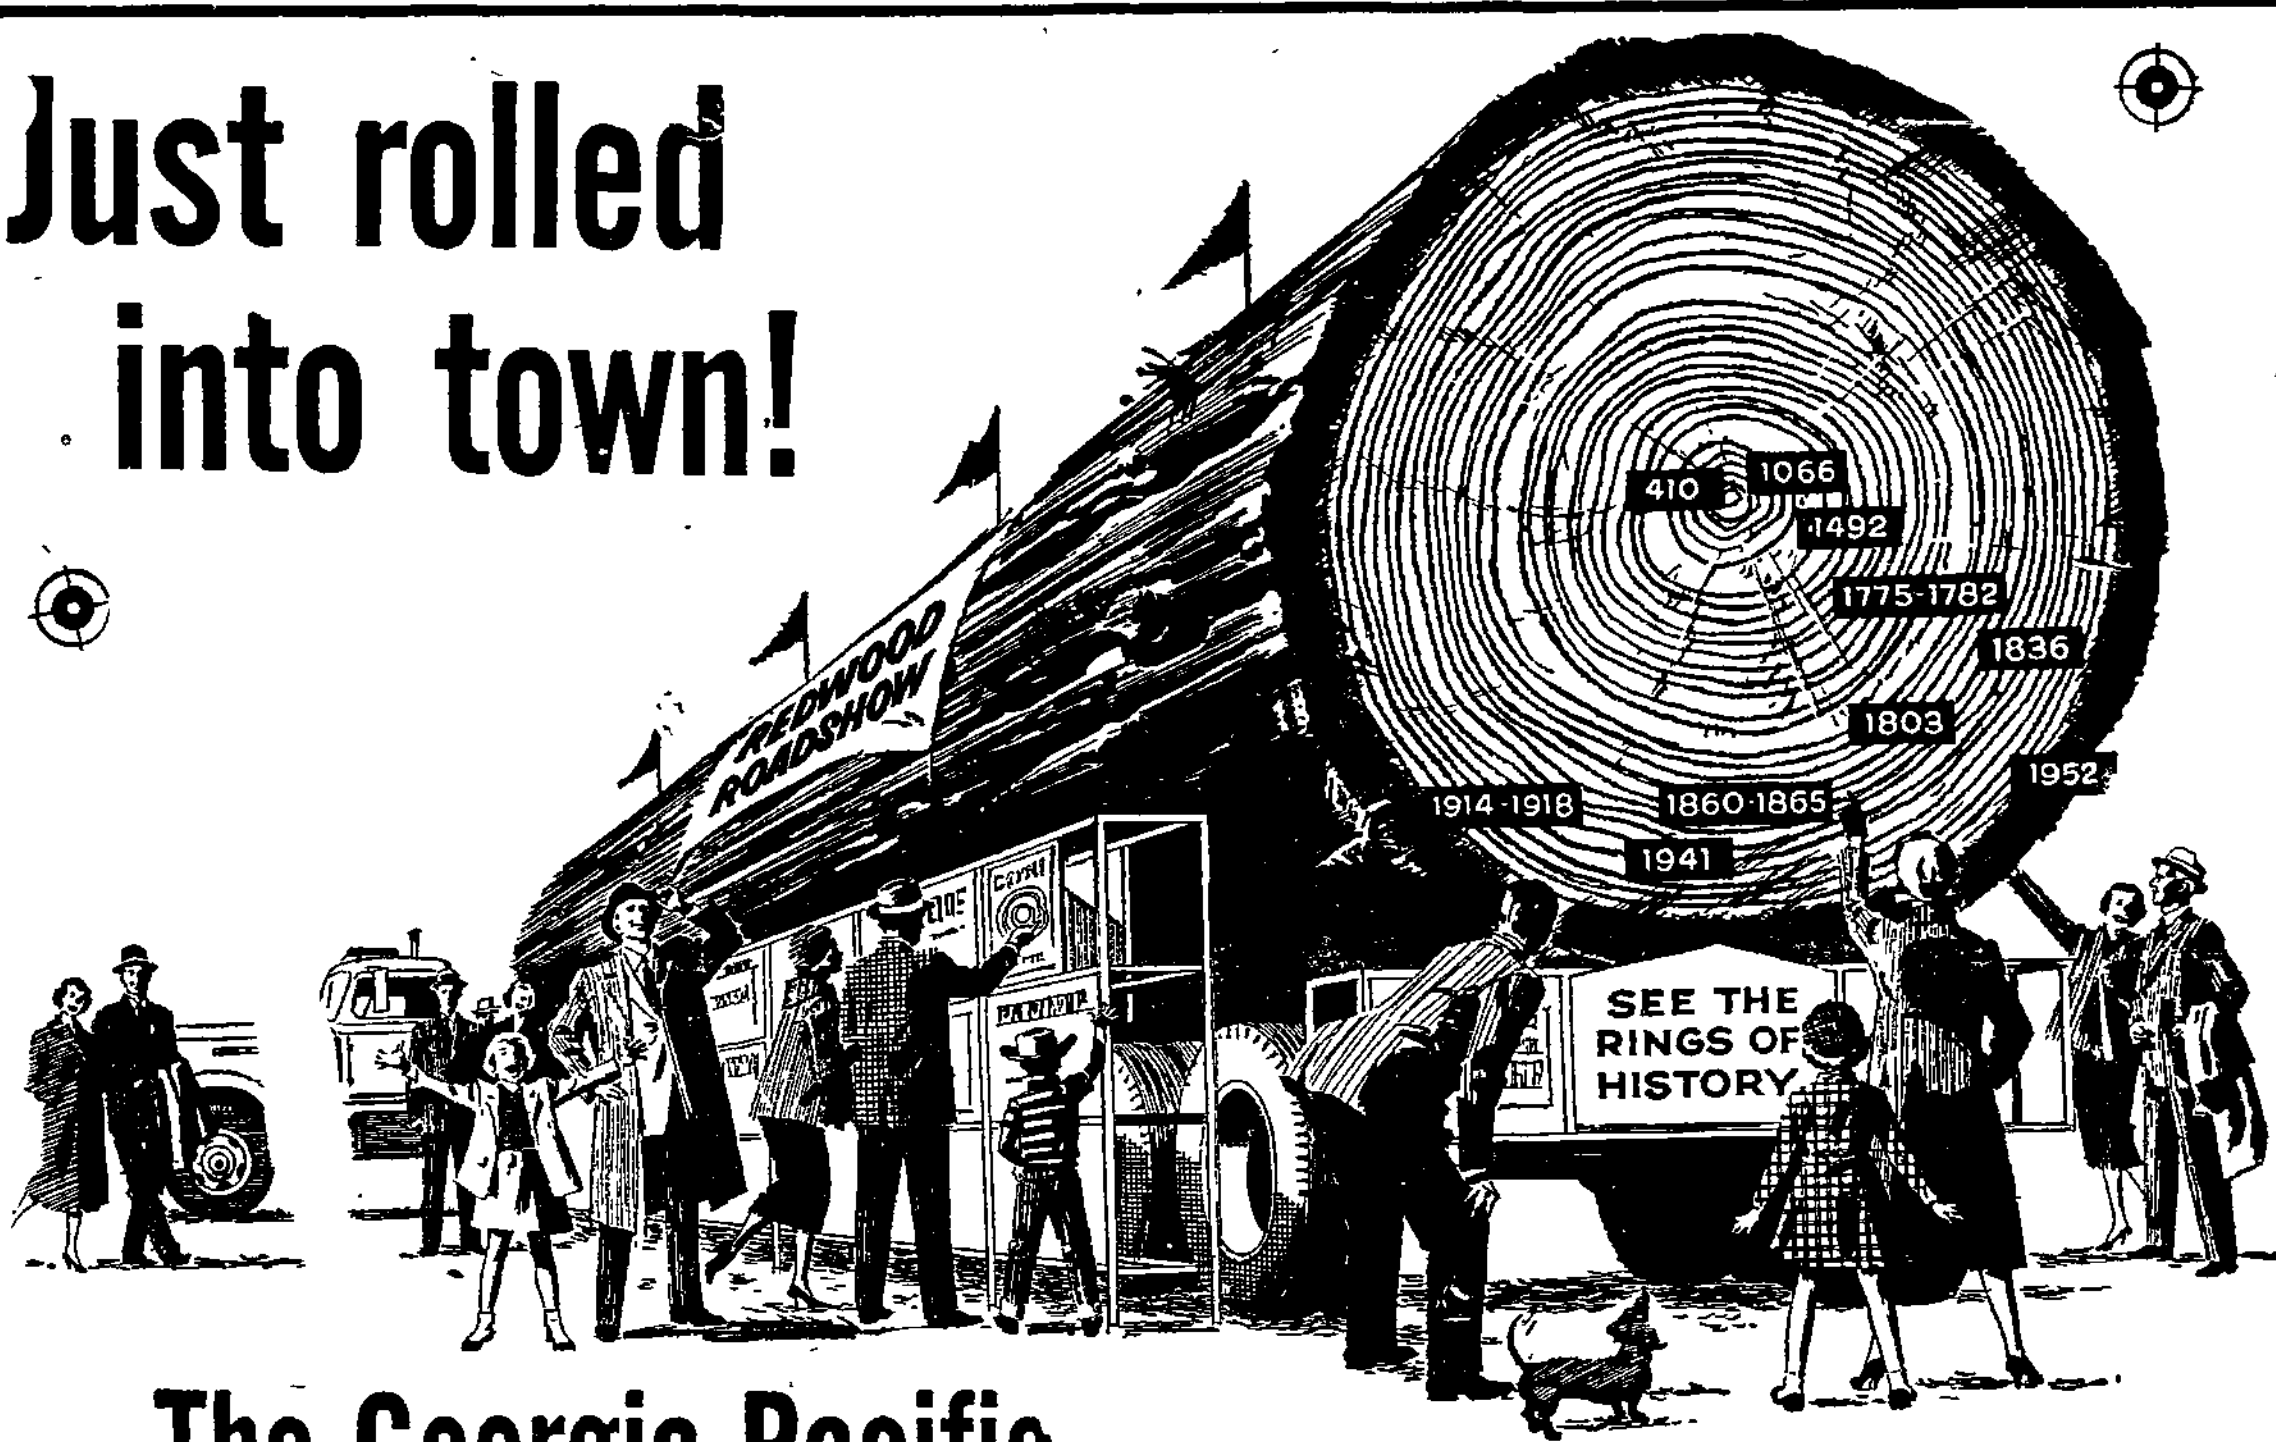

The Scott products were delivered to retailers through Flickinger warehouses in Buffalo, Elmira, Jamestown, Rochester and Syracuse, all in New York and in Columbus, Ohio.

and programs on the bet that you are. Among the heaviest investors in "identification" are automobile manufacturers.

Think of a make of American auto and see if you identify with it a TV entertainer whose program advertises the car. Or, since identification is supposed to work both ways, think of a TV entertainer and see if you identify an advertised product with that individual.

If you do, you're prone to product identification. If you don't, well, presumably the system or theory isn't working.

One who is convinced that it works is Bill Hayes, a singer and actor who has been promoting a particular auto in the past year—both off television and on. "From about 1951 to '53," he said recently, "people identified me with TV's 'Show of Shows.' In '54 they were asking me for tickets to 'Me and Juliet,' the Broadway hit I was in. In '55 and '56 they called me Davy Crockett. (His recording of 'The Ballad of Davy Crockett' sold more than two million.) Nowadays people ask me, 'are you selling those cars?'"

Currently Hayes is starring in a full-length musical show which is touring the country playing to the dealers and friends of the automobile make which Hayes also advertises in TV.

Neatly every auto manufacturer who advertises on television uses his TV entertainers to tour the country and help introduce new designs to his sales force.

In this identification of a product with an entertainer Hayes sees as much advantage for the entertainer as for the product.

"In my own case, as a pretty typical example," he said, "my company doesn't want me to be only a salesman. They want me to remain a performer—and grow as a performer. It's to be expected that the more popular I become, the more popular our car will become."

Naturally he can't appear on TV programs sponsored by auto manufacturers who are considered competitors. Yet he can appear on programs sponsored by other auto manufacturers who are not considered competitive.

In short, the popularity of the product is believed to be linked to the popularity of Bill Hayes

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

THIS TRIPLE SQUEEZE FEATURES A PUZZLER

When I was first playing serious bridge one of my instructors was the late Joseph B. Lee, of Brooklyn. The game was auction in those days and Joe's favorite hand was one in which he and his partner set a sound bidder seven tricks at a one no-trump contract.

The hand is an example of a one-way pressure squeeze in which the victim is the declarer, not the defender, and the squeeze operates in three suits. Joe sat East and opened one club. He had a perfectly proper bid by auction standards and you can't really criticize South for his no-trump overcall. He had 20 points and a sure club stopper.

West doubled and, when everyone passed, proceeded to run his eight-card heart suit.

After seven heart leads South was down to four clubs and two aces. The eighth heart lead squeezed him out of the act of spades and West cashed the jack.

This time South threw away a club, whereupon West led a club and Joe made the rest of the tricks with his clubs.

Incidentally, if anyone wants to know why North did not rescue his partner the answer is that I have been unable to figure out any reason in the 35 years since the hand was played.

Missionaries Speak At Union Gathering

SUGAR GROVE—Rev. and Mrs. Carlton Foss were guest speakers at the annual union meeting of the missionary societies of the Covenant Mission, Free Methodist, Peoples, Methodist and Presbyterian churches at the Methodist church.

Rev. Foss showed slides and Mrs. Foss spoke briefly on their work in Malaya, then of their trip to the school in India, which is for children of missionaries in various mission fields, and where their daughter, Maxine, has been a student. They also showed various scenes from their trip to the Holy Land; also of Rome and Athens.

Mrs. Foss first spoke to the group in 1942, when she was Edna Dahlin, back from her first furlough, and has addressed them several times since. Rev. Foss served as pastor of the local Methodist church during the war years, when missionaries were sent home.

Mrs. Theodore Allenson presided, read Scripture and offered prayer. The choir of the Peoples' church sang, with Mrs. Elwood Landin as organist. Mrs. Neil Scott was accompanist for congregational singing; Mrs. Lewis Peterson and Mrs. Harry Sarvis were ushers; Rev. Foss pronounced the benediction.

A social time and refreshments were enjoyed in the dining room, with Mrs. Alvin Rhodes and Mrs. Scott Stuart, Sr., presiding at a table arranged with candles in silver holders and pink roses in silver bowls. Mrs. Hobart Sanders was chairman of the affair, assisted by representatives from the other churches. Mrs. Allenson announced this to be the 40th annual meeting of the group.

Consideration for Others Is the Mark of a Lady

A recent magazine article raised the question of what is a lady. The term isn't used as much as it once was. We seem to shy away from it as being old-fashioned.

Yet in our own minds we still judge a woman by whether or not she is a lady.

Here, in a few words, are my ideas of what qualifies a woman to be generally regarded as a lady.

When you meet her you look at her instead of at her clothes.

When she is talking to you, people across the room don't pause in their own conversations to listen. This is because she doesn't speak loudly enough to attract attention.

She doesn't talk about the things she does for others. She does her good deeds quietly and without fanfare.

She doesn't try to impress you with who she is or what she has. And on the other hand she isn't apologetic about what she doesn't have. She accepts you as a human being and expects you to do the same.

She has a certain amount of reticence about personal matters. She will listen sympathetically to someone else's troubles but isn't inclined to unload hers on anybody.

She gives other people the benefit of the doubt and doesn't go around criticizing and condemning or spreading malicious gossip.

She knows how to give a soft answer, instead of meeting insult with insult or cattiness with cattiness.

She chooses her friends without consideration for their social standing, bank accounts, or their possible usefulness to her.

If she is your friend, you are lucky because she will not let a friend down. After all, she's a LADY.

Maybe your husband makes you so mad sometimes that you could cheerfully belt him one—but think twice before you rush out to get a divorce. Think what life would be like without him.

"Divorcees are the unhappiest women in the world," says Frances Sider, who won both fame and fortune as a sportswear designer in New York before she decided to get a divorce, shut up shop and moved to Miami to start a new business and a new life. "I know, because I am one. And I watch

"I was married for 25 years before I gave up. Suddenly I found myself a single woman, with a half-grown daughter. Times and customs had changed since my childhood days. I didn't understand the new pattern and the new ways, and I found I didn't want to."

"When I first arrived in Miami my friends kept introducing eligible men, but I didn't know how to talk to them. You lose practice at flirting after 25 years. I was embarrassed and miserable and wanted nothing so much as to

Church Has Farewell For the Steed Family

YOUNGVILLE—Members of Free Methodist church honored their pastor, Rev. Adolph Steed, his wife, and daughter, Bonnie, with a farewell party Wednesday evening in the National Forge clubhouse.

The program included numbers by the Ladies' Trio, Men's Quartet and Mixed Quartet. Rev. and Mrs. Steed sang a duet, and the Junior Missionary Society also sang; Reid Pierson read Scripture and Clyde Pierson offered prayer.

A brief speech was made by Kenneth Hannold, in which he expressed the good wishes of members for the success and happiness of the departing minister and his family. A purse of money and other gifts were presented the honored guests.

The committee was composed of Mrs. Kenneth Hannold, Mrs. Reid Pierson and Mrs. Walter Roberts.

IT CLASS MEETING

IT Class of Epworth Methodist church held its regular meeting in the social room of the church, with a delicious dinner served to 14 members.

The business session was conducted by President Camilla Thompson, with plans made for the September meeting and entertainment of husbands for a tureen dinner at Chapman Dam. It was voted to give to the memorial fund for Loretta Hoch. Following the meeting, all enjoyed a pleasant social hour.

IN APPRECIATION

On Conservatory Staff

Announcement is made today of the appointment of Dean G. Blair to the faculty of Warren Conservatory of Music, teaching piano and harmony. He will be registering students at the Conservatory in Fourth avenue on Tuesday, September 2, and will begin teaching on Wednesday.

Dean, the son of former County Superintendent of Schools H. L. Blair and Mrs. Blair, 311 Water street, received his master of music degree from the Eastman School of Music. While attending the Rochester school, he studied piano with Harold Weiss, a graduate of Juilliard School of Music.

Following his graduation from Warren High School and Warren Conservatory of Music, where he studied with Lillian Larsen and Dr. LeRoy B. Campbell, Mr. Blair was awarded a four-year scholarship at Stetson University in DeLand, Fla., earning the degree of bachelor of music in piano pedagogy. Also at Stetson, he studied piano with Roger Cushman, graduate of Yale School of Music.

Dating back to his high school days, Dean's musical interests have been many, and in both high school and college he played string bass in orchestras. Blair has also studied voice, was a member of Warren High School A Cappella Choir, and toured with the Eastman Singers.

In 1954, young Blair received a reserve commission in the United States Army Artillery, spent a full tour of duty in South Korea, and received his honorable discharge in 1957.

His interests in sports are also considerable, having been a four-year letterman on the Warren High track squad and establishing a new all-high record in the broad jump. He is single and is a member of First Methodist church.

Authorship of Child's Story Is Proved Here

Recent visitors in Warren have been Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chmiel and Mrs. Frank Chmiel, Sr., of Tucson, Ariz., the younger Mrs. Chmiel being a relative of the late Mrs. Frances Ford, whose famous story of "The Little Switch Engine" made news three years ago in a controversy with publishers as to authorship and copyright claims.

Mrs. Ford, using the name

"Uncle Nat", wrote a series of letters to children, and one of these letters contained her story of "The Little Switch Engine."

Mrs. Chmiel appealed through the New York Times Book Section for information concerning the letters and, in reading the column, Mrs. Thomas H. Conway remembered the childhood letters and realized her mother, Mrs. M. V. Ball, had saved the complete set.

Word was sent to Mrs. Chmiel that the story of "The Little Switch Engine" was in Warren, Penna. It was the discovery of this letter, dated 1912, that helped Mrs. Chmiel carry on in her attempt to prove that Mrs. Ford was the real author.

In visiting with the Ball family, Mrs. Chmiel, who made the special trip east to secure material for a biography of Mrs. Ford she is writing, was happy to announce that royalties for the Ford estate have now been assured, and a special edition entitled "The Pony Engine", with due recognition to Mrs. Ford, is being published by Grosset and Dunlop for release during Book Week.

The story is also appearing in a Wonder Book edition, a copy of which she presented to the Ball family, and once more "The Little Switch Engine" is on the right track!

Brokenstraw Valley Joint Announces Plans for the School Reopening Sept. 3

All teachers in the Brokenstraw Valley Joint Schools will report for a general faculty meeting at 8:30 a. m., EDS, Tuesday, September 2, at Youngsville High School Building. Faculty meetings will continue until 10 o'clock at which time all teachers will depart for Warren to spend the remainder of the day at County Institute.

All students will report to school Wednesday, Sept. 3, at regular opening hours. Each school in the district will operate on the same time schedule observed last year. High School students to arrive between 8:25 and 8:40 a. m. During the first five days of school—September 3, 4, 5, 8 and 9—dismissal at the High School will be at 2:30 p. m. Dismissal at the various elementary schools on these five days will be adjusted to coincide with the bus schedule. Starting Wednesday, September 10, the full day schedule will begin with dismissal at the High School at 3:10 p. m.

All students entering First Grade or Youngsville Kindergarten and who have not been previously registered must present birth and vaccination certificates. Any student entering First Grade must be six years old before February 1, 1959; any student entering the Kindergarten must be five years old before February 1, 1959. Students who took the pre-school test last Spring have been registered. Buses will run on the same schedule and on the same routes as last year with very few exceptions. If there are any changes on any route the people involved will be notified.

Students who walk or provide their own transportation to school should arrive at the school between 8:25 and 8:40. High School students who are eligible to be transported to school are encouraged to ride school buses. Only in cases of extreme urgency should students drive cars to school. Activity buses serving High School will operate as they did last year on a schedule to be announced weekly from the High School office.

A special education classroom has been added to serve all elementary schools of the Jointure. This class will be temporarily located at 221 East Main Street in Youngsville until such time as additional facilities are available in the school building. Miss Sybil Weiler has been employed to teach this group. Miss Weiler is a graduate of the State Teachers College at Edinboro and has taught previously in the primary grades at North Warren. Addition of this program to our curriculum is in cooperation with a State wide program outlined by the State Department of Public Instruction and is designed to place particular emphasis on meeting the needs of every individual pupil. Pupils who attend this class will receive considerably more individual attention and instruction than is possible in the regular classroom. The class will be relatively small and many books and varied materials will be placed on basic reading and number skills, as it is the objective that after a time in this program the pupil will be able to successfully return to his regular classroom.

The following teachers will also join the Brokenstraw Valley Joint School Faculty for the 1958-59 school term:

Mrs. Eleonora Turnage, a graduate of the State Teachers College at Edinboro and a resident of Edinboro, will teach and supervise elementary school Art. Mrs. George Wollaston, a 1958 graduate of Clarion State Teachers College, will teach in the intermediate grades at the Youngsville School. Mrs. Mary Morgan of Pittsfield, will teach grades five and six at Garland school. Mrs. Morgan is a graduate of Edinboro Normal School and taught previously in Erie.

Brothers of Conneville, a graduate of State Teachers College at Slippery Rock, will teach girls' Health and Physical Education. Miss Cecelia M. Mosebarger of Johnstown, a graduate of Villa Maria College, will teach Business Education.

Mrs. Dorothea Taylor of Sugar Grove, and a recent graduate of State Teachers College at Edinboro will teach Ninth and Tenth Grade English. Miss Jane McKee of Tonesta, a 1958 graduate of Grove City College, will teach Junior High School English, and John Green of Niagara Falls, N. Y., a graduate of Bob Jones University and Alfred University, will teach Languages. Orval B. Borton, Social Studies teacher in the Youngsville High School, has been granted an extension of his Sabbatical Leave for one semester. Mr. Borton expects to return to his teaching duties at the beginning of the second semester.

A total enrollment of 1478 students is anticipated, 661 of whom are presently registered at Junior-Senior High School. Cafeterias will operate in every school beginning Wednesday, Sept. 3. Lunch prices in all schools will remain the same as last year—25 cents per day for a hot lunch including milk and dessert.

Buildings throughout the district have been cleaned and repaired and are in excellent condition for the opening of the school term.

Several major alterations and repair projects have been completed including the re-lighting of elementary classroom buildings and High School Auditorium, and re-roofing of Youngsville Elementary and Currie Industrial buildings. Oil Festival Parade Prizes Are Announced Titusville Herald: The Bruce Shorts Post, VFW, is endeavoring to obtain as fine a parade as possible to celebrate the 99th anniversary of the drilling of the first oil well here. The parade will form at 6 p. m. Saturday, Aug. 30, and will start to move at 6:30 p. m. over a route to be published later this week.

The following prizes will be awarded to winners:
Floats—first prize $40, second $25.

Best junior marching unit—first prize $20.

Most humorous entry—first prize $15.

Anyone interested in entering a float or unit or any kind in this parade is requested to contact Ronnie Radmore, 108 N. Second St., before Thursday. This is done so the VFW can line up the units in order and it makes it easier to get the parade started on time.

"Plan now on how big a unit you wish to enter and we will be able to hold open the necessary places for your unit. This is a good opportunity to advertise your merchandise or services that you perform here in Titusville," Mr. Radmore said.

With the Candidates

LEADER
GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Gov. Leader said today he would seek to improve federal aid to education should he be elected U.S. Senator.

The Democratic senatorial candidate, in a campaign swing through Adams and Franklin counties, said he and Sen. Clark (D-Pa) were in complete agreement that better federal legislation was needed in the field of education.

"If we are to compete successfully with the Russians, this is not only necessary—it is plain common sense," he said in a prepared speech.

In 12 years, he said, the number of high school graduates in Pennsylvania seeking to enter college will increase from 120,000 now to about 242,000.

"This means scholarships, it means student loans, it means an effective system of community colleges," he said. "This is the program which this administration advocated and fought long before Sputnik, and the need for it today is even greater than it was then."

Leader opened his campaign with a tour of York County Monday. He told the York County audience that a long-range urban redevelopment aid program was needed at the federal level so that communities could plan ahead for redevelopment of blighted areas.

DAVIS

WERNERSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—John Morgan Davis, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, said Monday night Pennsylvania needs to "tighten up" its Fair Employment Practices Law to check discrimination against job-seekers due to age.

Davis, who resigned recently as a Philadelphia Common Pleas judge to campaign for office, said the law must be strengthened "so that there can be no technical evasions of the requirements for hiring people simply because they are over 40."

He pledged to seek legislation to assure gainful employment for older people and welfare advancement for those compelled to retire due to age.

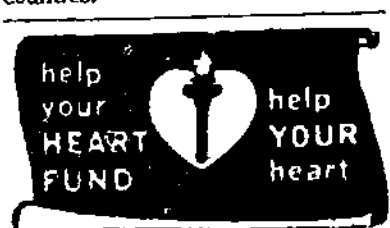

McGONIGLE

READING, Pa. (AP)—Rep. Hiram G. Andrews (D-Cambria) says Arthur T. McGonigle, Republican candidate for governor, "makes a favorable personal impression but he is handicapped by his associates and the record of his party."

The 81-year-old state House leader made the appraisal Monday night after a closed-door strategy conference of party legislative candidates from eight counties.

Andrews said he was impressed after meeting McGonigle at a Cambria County picnic last week. But he said the Reading pretzel manufacturer, a political newcomer, "would not be able to control the state legislature in the event a GOP victory and the 'old guard' leaders would take over."

Attending the meeting were candidates from Berks, Bucks, Chester, Delaware, Lehigh, Montgomery, Northampton and Schuylkill counties.

Senator Martin Declares G.O.P. Needing Finances

Associated Press Special Service
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.), retiring after a long career of public service, says money is the only obstacle standing between the Republican Party and a statewide victory in the November election.

"I know we will win if we can get finances to equal those of the Democrats," the 78-year-old senator told newsmen at a farewell conference Monday.

He predicted victory for Arthur T. McGonigle, GOP candidate for governor, and Rep. Hugh Scott, of Philadelphia, running for the U.S. Senate.

Martin expressed concern, however, about the opposition's financial situation. He said the Democrats have collected $700,000 from employees of Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and the state.

Arkansas Lawmakers

had applied for admission to white schools. Seven who attended Central High School last year under federal troop protection are expected to apply Wednesday.

One Negro girl, 14, sought admission to Hall High School, a swank new institution in a neighborhood of predominantly better quality residences occupied by whites.

The key measure prepared for the lawmakers by Gov. Orval Faubus would present him the power to close any school should the federal government seek to integrate it by court order or physical force.

The school would remain closed until voters balloted—within 30 days—on whether to integrate or keep its doors shut.

A third measure would permit a student of a closed school to carry his state aid allotment with him to another district.

The U. S. Supreme Court on Thursday will hold an emergency session to deal with Little Rock's riot-marked school racial problems.

Under current lower court rulings, the city's schools are under no orders to integrate when the fall term opens. The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People appealed to the high court to override the lower bench rulings which give the school board a breather.

The Supreme Court, meeting Thursday—only the fifth such emergency session in 40 years—has widespread implication.

It is expected to provide the first specific ruling by this court on integration methods and timing since it ruled May 17, 1954, that racial segregation in public schools is unconstitutional. A year later it ordered desegregation to proceed "with all deliberate speed."

But never has the court pinpointed a time and method for desegregation of a school.

City school board attorneys today declared "...the school board...will be unable to operate Central High School on an integrated basis under conditions as they now exist in Little Rock."

The attorneys' statement was in a brief to be filed with the Supreme Court, answering one part of the NAACP's petition for immediate integration.

The response cited legal precedent and previous arguments and asserted that "in this situation, if the petitioners (Negro students) application is denied, then, regardless of result upon final disposition of the case, their high school education will not be interrupted and in fact they will be spared the predictable mental torment and physical danger that would accompany attendance at Central High School in September."

Kite Used To Dislodge Panties From Flagpole

STARKVILLE, Miss. (AP)—A kite was used at Mississippi State University to dislodge a pair of blue panties from a campus flagpole.

Aerodynamicist J. J. Cornish III told of the stunt in a paper released by the school Monday. The feminine panties had been hoisted to the top of the drill field staff and the halyard cut so they couldn't be hauled down.

Cornish said a fish hook was attached to a kite string, the kite was maneuvered into the position, and the panties were hooked and drawn down.

The title of the paper: "A modern application for an ancient aerodynamic tool."

make on the monitors' letter, but "it is correct I did not tell the monitors in advance" about creating the Teamsters' own rackets squad.

Release of the letter coincided with a denial from U. S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts, who created the monitor board, that he had encouraged Republican former Sen. George Bender of Ohio to take up the job as head of the Hoffa-appointed commission.

Bender, had said he received such encouragement in consultation with the judge.

In advance of the release of the letter Godfrey P. Schmidt, another of the court-appointed group, described Hoffa's action in creating his own anti-racketeering board as outrageous.

Schmidt said in New York Monday that "Hoffa can now say the monitors are no longer necessary because the union has got its own watchdogs. This is a typical piece of complicated Hoffa conspiracy."

In addition to Bender, the members of the Hoffa-appointed group are F. Joseph Dono-take over with the board as a watchdog over his activities.

In his letter to Hoffa today, monitor Chairman O'Donoghue listed the following questions he wants Hoffa to answer in detail about his "anti-racketeering commission":

Is it proposed that the activities of the commission be limited to alleged "gangster domination" of the union? If not, precisely what types of conduct will fall within the commission's purview?

Is it proposed that the commission be established for a set term or will it be terminable at the discretion of the union?

Is it proposed that the commission will conduct hearings?

How, if at all, will the commission fit into the union's present system for the processing of individual complaints and appeals?

Is it proposed that the commission's recommendations be made public?

To what extent does the union propose to bind itself to abide by the recommendations of the commission?

How large a staff and budget is it proposed to supply to the commission?

The letter to Hoffa concluded: "You are also requested to furnish the monitors by Aug. 28, 1958, with copies of all correspondence and intraunion memoranda with respect to the commission."

and overzealous supervision evinced since the July 14 change in government.

The State Department also is unhappy about some bitter anti-American propaganda broadcast by Radio Baghdad. The official Iraq government station has given considerable attention to charges that the United States plotted to stir up revolt in neighboring Syria.

Gibbons, executive vice president of the Teamsters Union, holds top command of its operations in the St. Louis region. He also is top lieutenant to Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

Meanwhile, one member of a three-man monitors board, appointed by a federal court here to keep tabs on the Teamsters, described as "an outrageous thing" Hoffa's creation of a separate commission to investigate corruption charges against his union.

Godfrey P. Schmidt said in New York that "Hoffa can now say the monitors are no longer necessary because the union has got its own watchdogs. This is a typical piece of complicated Hoffa conspiracy."

Schmidt said the monitors have demanded that Hoffa give them a full explanation of all arrangements that went into forming the commission, headed by former Republican Sen. George H. Bender of Ohio.

Furthermore, Schmidt indicated a protest may be made to Federal Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts. Letts earlier this year appointed the monitors to watch over the union operations. He did so in a compromise settlement of a suit by a group of dissident Teamsters members who sought to upset Hoffa's election as Teamsters President.

Bender told a news conference Judge Letts welcomed establishment of the commission which Hoffa announced last Saturday.

He also said he saw no conflict between his commission and the monitors and that he would cooperate with them.

In pledging to conduct a thorough probe of the Teamsters, Bender said he was confident Hoffa will follow any cleanup recommendations the commission will make.

"I agreed to serve only after assurance from Mr. Hoffa and his attorneys that I will have a free hand to act as I see fit," Bender said.

Warren Member New Treasurer of Elks' Association

HARRISBURG (AP)—Delegates to the 52nd convention of the Pennsylvania Elks State Assn. today held memorial services for members who have died during the past year.

The Rev. Leo F. Duerr of Sunbury, state chaplain, conducted the services.

Another highlight of the convention, the President's Ball, was scheduled for tonight.

S. Paul Seeders, Pottstown businessman, was elected president of the group Monday. He succeeded John F. Buchanan of Bedford.

Other officers elected were James Ebersburger, Latrobe, vice president; Fred Lenker, Warren, treasurer; and W. F. Keller, Allentown, trustee. Wilbur G. Warner, Lehighton, was reelected secretary.

The Norristown lodge chorus, directed by J. Francis Paxson, won first place in the annual chorus competition. The Norristown group won first prize of $400 in cash.

The Butler chorus took second place and $300, Truistville won third and $200, and Williamsport fourth and $100.

noon some 5,500 shells crashed down on the heavily fortified islands.

With the U.S. 7th Fleet already on the alert, a landing force of 1,600 men from the 3rd Marine Division was ordered to sail from Singapore. The destination of the four attack transports and four accompanying ships was not disclosed, but it was assumed they were moving closer to Formosa.

The 7th Fleet is pledged to protect Formosa but not necessarily Quemoy or the offshore islands. Officials in Washington said close watch was being kept on the set up in the Communist attack.

Maj. Gen. Thomas F. Mooreman, commander of the U.S. 13th Air Force based in the Philippines, visited Formosa for talks with top Nationalist and U.S. military assistance officers.

Nationalist authorities were paying increasing attention to the possibility that the Communists would try to seize Tungting Island, 17 miles south of Quemoy. The Defense Ministry said two Red attempts Sunday to land troops on the tiny, rocky island were repulsed by Nationalist warships. Officials suspected, however, that the Communists might not have given up.

Tungting is used by the Nationalists to keep tab on ships trying to sneak out of Amoy, the Communist port opposite Quemoy, so Nationalist warships can be alerted to intercept them. Its capture would help the Reds evade Nationalist blockades. The island is believed fairly well fortified and garrisoned by the Nationalists.

Some artful burglars sometime Saturday night burned their way into a Mt. Jewett liquor store and made off with more than $400 in cash and defense bonds.

Kane State Troopers said today that the burglars first chiseled out bricks holding a steel window grate, then rolled a 1,300-pound York safe into a rest room where they could be out of sight and have use of water.

An acetylene torch was used to cut around hinges of the top circular plate which is opened by combination. Then the torch burned out enough of a second key-operated plate to enable the thieves to turn it and get at the money.

Water and damp rags were used to keep torch heat from burning the money. The theft was discovered about noon Monday by Charles Bockus, store manager. Missing along with the $400 in cash were two $75 defense bonds he had there for safe keeping.

Left behind by the burglars were a few pennies and dimes. The men also took along a small quantity of liquor. The building is on Mt. Jewett's Main Street. After chiseling out the brick wall which held the grate, the burglars took the putty from the window pane to remove the glass.

Kane Troopers admitted leads were slim. The safe was rolled from its usual spot behind the counter. Troopers thought the job must have taken an hour.

WASPS CAUSE DEATH

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Allegheny County morgue officials report shock, apparently caused from wasp stings, caused the death Monday of Mrs. Elizabeth Stocking, 50, of suburban Fox Chapel.

Mrs. Stocking had several wasp stings on her body at the time of death, according to a physician.

Milwaukee Braves Make It Seven in Row Over Giants

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

So the Milwaukee Braves can't beat the also-ran Los Angeles Dodgers. It may be annoying, but it's not crucial. Not when the champs can run off seven in a row against the San Francisco Giants, the club they have to beat.

Twice in the last four weeks, the Dodgers have belittled the Braves and left 'em looking as though they could be had. Instead, they've spanked the second-place Giants and romped off with eight-game leads in the National League pennant chase.

Just last week they dropped four of five to the fourth-place Dodgers, but then whipped the Giants in the opener of a "show-down" five-game series at San Francisco 8-5 in 10 innings Sunday. Monday night they did it again, rapping the Giants 6-1 behind Warren Spahn, who shrugged off a sore throat and won his 17th of the year — first on the West Coast.

The Dodgers retained fourth, coming from behind for a 4-2 victory over Cincinnati, and St. Louis whipped Pittsburgh 7-1 in the only other NL games scheduled.

Wally Moon had three of the Cardinals' nine hits off loser Ron Kline (12-12) and R. G. Smith, one a two-on homer that capped a four-run third. Larry Jackson (11-10) was the winner. He gave up eight hits, losing his shutout bid on Hank Foiles' double, a sacrifice and Bob Clemente's single in the third that tied it 1-1.

Southpaw Johnny Podres gave up a two-run homer to Pete Whisenant in the first inning, then blanked the Reds on seven hits for a 12-10 record. Harvey Haddix (7-7) lost it. Carl Furillo drove in the first two Dodger runs with a pair of singles and scored the lead run on Don Zimmer's single in the third.

SEITZIN' IMAGE — Lew Burdette's late-season shut-out throwing has brought the Milwaukee right-hander back to where he was last season—when he finished strong and went on to beat the Yankees three times in the Series.

Bill Veeck Still Anxious to Buy Indian Franchise

By JOE MOOSHEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Bill Veeck, eager to get back into baseball, is hot after the franchise he once operated at Cleveland in order to keep the Indians from making any moves.

However, at a press conference in Chicago Monday, Veeck said he isn't against moving franchises and believes the major leagues should expand to 10 teams with Toronto, Montreal, Houston and Minneapolis being possible additions.

"If a team must move, it should move," said Veeck. "But if I took over at Cleveland, I'd do everything within my power to keep the team there. Those people were too good to me to be deserted."

Veeck said that when he was president of the Indians they drew 2,620,627 for a major league attendance record in 1948. The next year with a four-place club they drew over 2,300,000 and once with a seventh-place club they drew over 1,100,000.

"Those people must still be there," said Veeck. "I can't believe they cannot be brought back."

Veeck and his associates made a bid for the Indians last spring but were turned down. Cleveland drew only 722,256 last year and will probably finish hith less this year.

When rumors circulated that the Cleveland franchise might be shifted, Veeck again appeared on the scene. "We didn't make a bid this time," he said, "but that does not mean we're not interested."

Cleveland Board Chairman William R. Daley has stated the Indians are not for sale. He also has said he wants to keep the team in Ohio — if the fans support it.

Navy's Cotton Bowl Champs Start Practice

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Navy's Cotton Bowl champions began football practice today riddled by graduation losses but deep in player potential for another good team.

Seven starting posts will have to be refilled by Coach Eddie Erdelatz and his aides before the Middies open their nine-game season here Sept. 27 against William & Mary.

They'll rebuild around Bob Reinsnyder, the smashing tackle from Rockville Centre, N. Y.; George Fritzinger, guard from Wilkes Barre, Pa.; center Milan Mondlovich of Steubenville, Ohio; and fullback Ray Wellborn of Houston, Tex.

Speaking of Sports

Bob Jackson, 106 Parker street, was among 95 archers at Northwestern Conference shoot held at Colonel Drake Archery Club's Bog Hollow range at Titusville, and came in with a 350 to take first place. Through a steady downpour, the contest continued with Sam Lowrey of Oil City hitting 340 for second, Jim English, Warren, third.

Harold "Red" Grange enters a new phase of his career with his Sept. 22 debut as Sports Illustrated's "college football prognosticator," the crystal-gazing post left vacant by the death this summer of Herman Hickman. Hefty, iron-gray 54-year-old Grange, a Pennsylvania born lumberman's son, remains one of the greatest all-time football greats, having attained that position during three years of varsity football with University of Illinois from 1923 through 1925.

The Kane Fish and Game Club, which plans to kill all fish now in local Evergreen Park Pond, has announced the Pond will be restocked with crappies and bluegills. Joe Boccardy, aquatic biologist for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service who is stationed at nearby Warren, told club members that he will supervise "killing" of the pond and ask the state Fish Commission to do the re-stocking. The meeting was held at the YMCA. The club's Evergreen Park project is part of the current Community Development Contest effort.

Jamestown Sun: All candidates for Jamestown High School's 1958 Varsity and Sophomore football teams will report to the Varsity locker room in Senior high Thursday evening at 6, when uniforms and equipment will be issued according to Coach Walt Colburn. Dr. James Goodell, the team's physician, will commence giving the candidates their physical examinations on the same evening at 7 o'clock. The Red Raider griders will report for their season's first practice session at Harrison Street Field Monday morning, the workout to start at 9:30 and close at 10:30. The two-hour afternoon drill will be started at 2:30.

A. P. Writer Sizes Up World Champion Braves

First of a Series
By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Fred Haney is not a miracle man. He does not claim to be. He thinks he is a good manager although he refuses to take credit for Milwaukee's success this year and last.

By the same token, the 60-year-old Californian didn't accept the charges made against him after the Braves' fiasco in 1956.

"That he was managing 'scared,' that his strategy was self-defeating, nervous, by-the-book, that he bunted the Braves into second place."

"I'd like to think I'm a miracle man," Haney said, "but let's face it. I've had little to do with our being in first place. The players have done it themselves."

Miracle man or not, Haney has his Braves playing good, hustling ball and in first place. It is true the Braves were expected to breeze to their second straight pennant, but nobody expected the Braves to encounter as many injuries as they have.

Second baseman Red Schoendienst has missed half the season. Outfielders Wes Covington and Billy Bruton, have been in and out of the line-up. Pitcher Bob Buhl is completely out of action. Other lesser lights have been forced out of the line-up.

Yet the Braves managed to stay in contention all the way.

It was the hitting, pitching and fielding of the players that won the games but it was Haney who did the manipulating.

He made alterations everywhere in the line-up. He used infielders in the outfield and inexperienced youngsters in the infield. He made unusually good use of the bunt, the stolen base and the squeeze play.

So Haney must be partly responsible for the Braves' success just as he may have been partly responsible for their failure in '56.

"I believe the big difference is confidence," he said. "I have confidence in them and they have confidence in me."

Orioles Win 13 Out of Last 19; Have Eyes on 2nd Place

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

A week ago it figured that the Baltimore Orioles might have a shot at the first division in the American League standings. Now the Birds might even roost in second place.

The Orioles under Manager Paul Richards have won 13 of their last 19 games.

They wrestled Detroit for a share of fourth place by taking two of three from the Tigers. Then they beat Chicago 5-5 Monday night for a sweep of the two-game set with the second-place White Sox.

That left the Birds within three games of third place Boston and just four games shy of the White Sox while padding their edge over Detroit to a full game.

Washington defeated Cleveland 5-4 in the only other AL game.

Offers of Illegal Payoffs for UCLA Recruits Charged

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The University of California has sternly rebuked UCLA's head football coach but is investigating his charges against athlete recruiting.

George Dickerson, successor to the late Coach Red Sanders at UCLA, shattered presemester calm on California's campus by confronting Coach Pete Elliott in his office.

Dickerson demanded that Elliott curb the activities of Herman Weiner, president of Southern Seas, a University of California booster group in Southern California. This was Saturday. Monday Dickerson told a news conference about it.

Elliott said in a statement he had agreed Saturday to ask Weiner to cease any activities until Dickerson's charge could be properly investigated. But, he added, because of the UCLA's coach's statements to the press he had withdrawn the request to Weiner.

In Los Angeles, Weiner said the charges against him were entirely false.

Dickerson charged that two young athletes, Dean Moore, freshman tailback at UCLA last fall, and Bill Kilmer, Citrus Junior College back, told him Weiner had offered them illegal payoffs to enroll at California. Moore and Kilmer accompanied Dickerson to Elliott's office.

Member of High Dragon Squad Is Hurt in Practice

Pre-season injuries plague Dragon football coach Ralph Veights.

The first football-acquired injury was sustained yesterday by 16-year-old Larry Lawton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lawton, Jr., 405 East street. Larry, it is believed, "caught an elbow," inflicting a concussion and a severe break of the nose.

A jumbo in Warren High this coming term, Larry was a center for the Dragons, second string. According to attending physicians, Lawton will be out of action approximately 4-6 weeks.

Last week, right end Dick Fowler fell from a horse, fracturing his right leg. The mishap will keep Fowler out of action all season.

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 1,000 golfers today went after berths in the 58th U. S. Amateur Golf Championship at various qualifying sites around the country.

Almost the entire 200 spots for the match play elimination at San Francisco's Olympic Country Club Sept. 8-13 will be decided. Honolulu held its test over the weekend, Seattle filled six spots Monday and Chicago will conclude qualifying Wednesday with 99 vying for 11 openings.

WOULD BUY TRIBE—A group of prominent Clevelanders headed by Bill Veck, left, one-time owner of the club will make an offer of $4,000,000 for the Cleveland Indians. The syndicate, which includes ex-star third baseman Al Rosen, will propose Robert Black, right, chairman of the board of White Motor Co., to serve as president of the new organization.

Graham's Job on Ninowski Winds Up as Aid for Brown

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

LOS ANGELES (NEA)—It is ironic that Otto Graham, who has run around for three years blasting Paul Brown's coaching, winds up doing his old boss and the Cleveland Browns a tremendous favor.

Brown's matchless record in the professional ranks was compiled with Graham at quarterback and now Otto has put the finishing touches on a quarterback who may out-Graham Graham. His name is Jim Ninowski and millions say the Michigan State kid got the football season off by practically putting the Detroit Lions out of Chicago's Soldier Field as he put life back into the All-Star game.

This year's edition of College All-Stars was not supposed to be outstanding offensively, but Graham, making his bow as a head coach, made them so by using Ninowski like Graham. The Old Northwestern Wildcat all but threw out the running game, the Stars making only three of their 295 yards by rushing.

The offensive line was there principally to protect Ninowski. Only two receivers were used. All others blocked. It was not a hard-to-figure style, but it enabled Ninowski to complete 14 of 20 passes for 244 yards against the world champions.

BUT WHAT PUZZLES football buffs across the country is how 11 other clubs followed the Browns, who needed one so badly, to draft a passer like Ninowski as late as the fourth round. And a scabby catcher on the order of Bob Mitchell, of Illinois the seventh time around. No fewer than 50 athletes were drawn from the Brown Brown took Ninowski. By the time the selectors got around to Mitchell there wasn't anybody left.

And yet veterans had described Ninowski as the slickest passer Michigan State ever had. Mitchell is the Big 10 hurdler and 220-yard champion. The rap against Mitchell was that he is too small at 6 feet and 185 pounds. Brown saw differently. So did the Lions.

The All-Star game was a further recommendation for free substitution, which is all but being brought back by the colleges this fall. It must be remembered that the players who twisted the Lions' tails played both ways throughout their college careers. Graham and his staff of former pros were able to do so much because they could cast them properly and concentrate on their specialties.

IT ALSO BROUGHT OUT that in more recent years the colleges have not been taking full advantage of the explosiveness of the forward pass. In too many cases, the split-T attack, which can become parry dull, lessened its value.

Otto Graham quickly gave the College All-Stars the pre-touch—the main idea of which is to be entertaining while winning. Otto opened up their offense, paving the way for spectacular passes and runs. It is hoped that this smashing victory will prompt Graham to consider a coaching career. It would be a shame to have such an illustrious name pass out of the picture, which he could well do now on even a higher note.

And about Bobby Conrad kicking four field goals from 44, twice from 24 and 19 yards, the first into the wind? This fine defensive back didn't boot one in three years for Texas A. and M., which could have used one or two a time or two last autumn. But then, Bear Bryant no doubt was too busy engineering another coaching change to explore the possibilities of Conrad's gifted toe.

It didn't take Graham, old pro coaching the College All-Stars, long to get around to that.

Pirates Swatters Fail Ronnie Kline Against Cardinals

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates just can't seem to hit or score for right-handed pitcher Ron Kline.

Monday night was no exception as the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Pirates 7-1 and handed Kline his 12th defeat against an equal number of victories.

Larry Jackson tossed an eight hitter and struck out seven in gaining his 11th triumph against 10 losses.

The only Pirate run came in the third inning when Hank Foiles doubled, moved to third on a sacrifice and scored on Roberto Clement's single.

Kline, whose control was off, walked three batters in the first three innings and they all scored. The Cardinals' big inning came in the third when they scored four runs, the key blow Wally Moon's three-run homer.

St. Louis picked up two more runs in the seventh on two singles, an error, a walk and a stolen base.

In the second, the Cardinals scored a run after Ken Boyer walked, Joe Cunningham and Moon singled and Gene Green hit a sacrifice fly.

News of Hollywood

EDITOR'S NOTE:

One of filmland's hardest working, most successful and famous citizens turns 76 Wednesday—busier than ever on the biggest project of his career. He is Samuel Goldwyn, the legendary producer. Associated Press columnist Bob Thomas tells some of the reasons for Goldwyn's entertainment world eminence in two stories, the first of which follows:

By BOB THOMAS
*AP Motion Picture Writer

Hollywood (AP)—"If you want to keep living, keep working."

That is the reflection of Samuel Goldwyn on the approach of his 76th birthday Wednesday. At this advanced age, he is putting in a full day's work each day on the biggest gamble and toughest project of his career.

Goldwyn is investing between 5 and 7 million dollars of his own money on a film version of "Porgy and Bess." It is a production that has had more grief before filming than any other film with-in memory.

He spent eight months negotiating for the folk opera rights with the individuals and estates that control them—"I almost gave up three times." He had trouble lining up a cast because some performers feared the vehicle would portray the Negro in a bad light.

He switched directors in a bitter wrangle that almost evoked a mutiny in the cast. And the stage containing the sets and costumes burned to the ground with a two-million-dollar loss.

"Life is a fight," he commented. "I'm used to it. I've been fighting all my life."

"I started to work when I was 11. My father left me nothing—nothing but a mother and six brothers and sisters to help support. Every time I earned three or four dollars, I gave one to my mother. I didn't mind. I learned that giving is better than receiving."

Goldwyn talked in his tastefully furnished office at the studio he bought from Mary Pickford. He wore a conservative, double-breasted pin-stripe suit and brown and white shoes and talked earnestly of his belief in the therapy of work.

Goldwyn used to make 38 pictures a year when he was partnered with Jesse Lasky and Cecil B. DeMille, 26 when he had that Goldwyn Co. which was later merged into MGM (Sam didn't go with the deal).

In recent times, he has made only one picture at a time and he takes two or three years to prepare, film and sell it.

"When I'm working on a picture, I do nothing else," he remarked. "I take part in every phase of activity; I've got to know what every department is doing."

"Selling is part of my job, too. When I finish 'Porgy,' I'll go with it to openings in the key cities of Europe and Asia."

And after that?

"I'll be back in this office, talking to you about another picture," he grinned.

"PANIC IS THE STAMPEDE OF SELF POSSESSION"

—Author's Name Below—

There are still a few diseases for which complete cures are to be discovered. But we have many research projects studying these problems and we know we will learn the answers.

Meanwhile, do not become alarmed when reading the symptoms of these well publicized diseases and imagine that you suffer from such a condition. Panicky fear can actually make you sick when there may be absolutely nothing wrong. Never believe you are seriously sick unless your physician tells you so. Always check with him when in doubt.
